Behavioral Health – September is Suicide Prevention Month

MENTAL HEALTH IS HEALTH

DHA

- One life lost to suicide is too many. When we connect to protect, we build relationships and a community that enhances resilience and protects against suicide.
 - Members of the military community often face emotional or psychological concerns from the stress of military life.
 - The Department of Defense strives to eliminate barriers to care service members face when seeking mental health support.
 - Service members are entitled to request help confidentially.
 - Seeking care early can help address mental health challenges before they worsen and prevent a crisis.
 - Reaching out to care for your mental health is an important, positive step in your military career.
 - If you are struggling with depression, anxiety, or having suicidal thoughts, reach out to a health care provider.
 - You are not alone, and treatment can help.
 - The 988 Suicide and Crisis Lifeline is available at 988 via phone call, text, or chat.

Community Services Council Meeting 27 August 2025

Impact Aid

WHAT IS IMPACT AID?

Supporting Schools that Serve Federal Lands

Impact Aid is a federal program established in 1950.

It provides funding to school districts that lose local tax revenue due to the presence of:

- Military bases
- Native American Lands
- Federal Housing
- Other Federally Owned Property

This presentation does not constitute an endorsement, recommendation, or favoring by the Army or Fort Hood

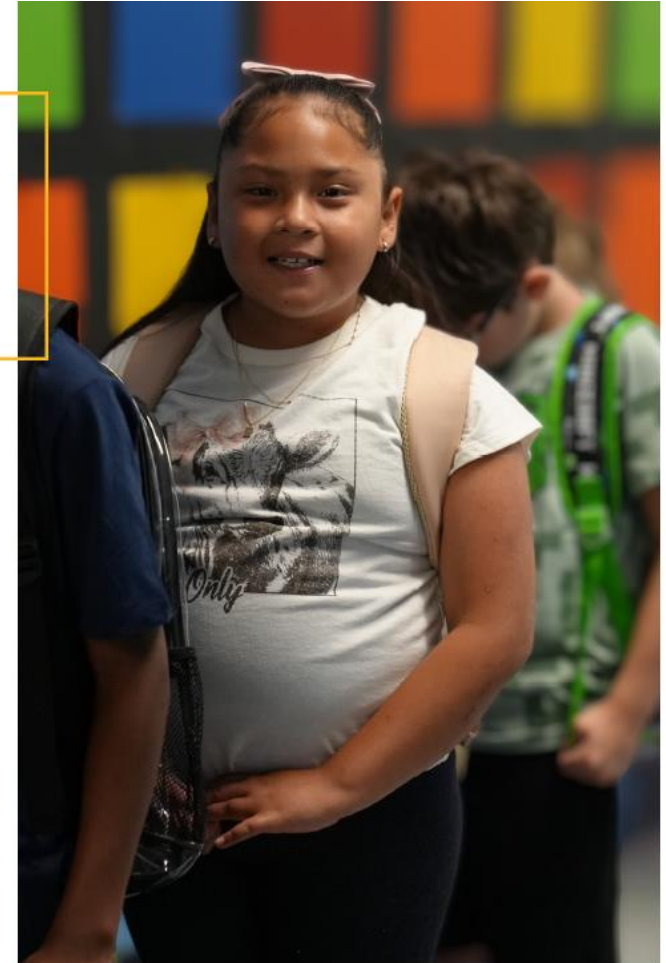

WHY IS IT NEEDED?

Filling the Funding Gap

Public schools are partially funded through local property tax.

Federal land is exempt from property taxes.

These districts face revenue loss but still provide education for local students.

This presentation does not constitute an endorsement, recommendation, or favoring by the Army or Fort Hood

Community Services Council Meeting 27 August 2025

Impact Aid

WHO QUALIFIES?

Our District's Eligibility

Our district's qualifications:

- Proximity to Fort Hood
- Enrollment of children whose parents live or work on federal land

12,267
(28.5%) federally connected families

This presentation does not constitute an endorsement, recommendation, or favoring by the Army or Fort Hood

A promotional poster for "Fort Hood Fight Night 2: Return to the Ring". The central graphic features a stylized illustration of a soldier in a green helmet and red boxing gloves, set against a green shield. Below the illustration, the text "FORT HOOD" is in white on a black banner, "FIGHT NIGHT" is in white on a red banner, and "RETURN 2 THE RING" is in white on a black banner with a large red "2". The background is dark with bright spotlights shining from the top corners. On the left is the U.S. Army MWR logo, and on the right is a QR code. At the bottom, the date and time "Sept. 12th 6 p.m." are on the left, and "Free and Open To All" is on the right, with "Abrams Physical Fitness Center" centered below.
